

St. James' Weekly Newsletter

Once again, the children have chosen their favourite learning activity.

Class 1 have been on an archaeological dig this week and found dinosaur bones and fossils in their sandpit! Then they set up a dinosaur museum to display all the exhibits. They also designed a 'me-a-saur-us', there was a Albie-asaurus, Mia-saurus, Callum-asaurus, Cody-saurus, Annabelle-asaurus, Lila-saurus, Sophie-asaurus, Francesca-saurus, Alex-asaurus, Jensen-asaurus, Rufu- saurus, Seth-ssaurus, Maxwell-asaurus, Cayden-asaurus and last but not least a Charlie-asaurus - that's a whole lot of new dinosaurs!

Class 2 continued their pirate topic, giving all the class a pirate name! They wrote a report and completed a diary entry as though they were a pirate. On Tuesday, they discovered an amazing treasure chest, full of gold, jewels, pirate coins and even a pirate's cutlass!

Sssshhhh - look away dads! Class 3 have really enjoyed making their father's day cards this week. We hope that all the dads like them! They also continued their study of rocks and went on a walk to church to see the different types of rocks and how they age over time.

Although Class 4 haven't been in school this week, we can be sure that they will have a whole list of things they've enjoyed learning about and doing whilst having the times of their lives at Shugborough.

NOTICES

CRAZY HAIR DAY

Crazy hair day has changed. It will now take place on 22nd June (not 30th as previously advised). The wackier the better - in exchange for a bottle ofanything!

SPORTS DAY FREEZER

Does anyone have a small freezer that we can borrow for sports day please? Please let the school office know if you do, we will be most grateful.

MESSY CHURCH

This Saturday (17th) is Messy Church at St James. The theme this month is fathers, daddies, papas... in fact any father figures, especially for the Father's day weekend. As usual, the fun starts at 4pm with food at the end. The forecast for the weekend is good so why not chill out at messy Church?
